

Immortal For One Day

Jackie found a place to sleep so we went to the piano
The girl that I was playing with asked about the halo

I said holy and divine were mine, something I believed in Cuz all my lovers left or lied, it's all in your perceiving

CHORUS Angels dancing above my bed
Told me I'm too serious
So they gave me a halo for my head
They thought it would be quite humorous
Well I don't think that they would be
Immortal for one day
Once they saw the pain in me
I think they'd fly away
Escape into the evening clouds
And fade, fade away
Fade, fade away

When Jackie heard me cry, it wasn't cuz I said no
Her tendency to compromise like the eye of a tornado

One day I will find the lie divinity believes in
And then I'll understand the land that lovers live forever in

CHORUS

The music was divine and mine but the girl said she could fake it
Jackie said to sleep and keep my heart before she'd take it
